Industry insights and perspectives

Covid-19 actuarial modelling of the pandemic - South Africa

NMG Consulting created a multi-state actuarial model forecasting COVID-19 cases to help understand changes over the long-term implications of the pandemic in South Africa and updates it weekly to reflect the latest information from studies on the disease progression.

Doubling down on successful partnerships

The insurance industry in South Africa is doing its part in responding to a 1-in-100-year global event. While the path out of the Covid crisis is long and uncertain, the successful functioning of key partnerships within the industry is making a real difference.

Why your view matters and how we support companies

A leader in providing actuarial and consulting services to the South African health reinsurance market, we work with various health care providers across the value chain to provide valuable insights on how they can compete better. Your contribution is valuable as it allows us to better understand the medical scheme provider's performance and market dynamics.

In exchange for your views

As a thank you for your time, you will receive the study report giving you exclusive insights: containing the performance of administrators and how medical schemes compare, in their positioning and effectiveness, which you can potentially use to improve medical schemes outcomes.
